The certification on the front of this Notice, and the evidence that you were the owner, lessee or renter of the vehicle at the time of the offense, create a legal presumption that you were the person who committed the violation. If you are age 18 or older, you may rebut this presumption by (i) presenting to the court a certified copy of a police report showing that the vehicle had been reported to the police as stolen prior to the time of the alleged violation; (ii) testifying in open court, under oath, that you were not the operator of the vehicle at the time of the alleged violation; (iii) filing an affidavit by regular mail attesting that you were not the operator of the vehicle at the time of the violation. An affidavit is a written statement, the truth of which is sworn to before someone who is authorized to administer an oath, such as a magistrate; notary; or a judge, clerk or deputy clerk of a court. Knowingly making a false affidavit constitutes perjury (Va. Code sec. 46.2-105). Perjury is punishable as a Class 5 felony (Va. Code sec. 18.2-434). The punishment for a Class 5 felony is imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than 10 years, or confinement in jail for not more than 12 months and a fine of not more than $2,500, either or both (Va. Code sec. 18.2-10).
